

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Burgundy Information Services appoints new Sales Manager to further develop relationships and opportunities in Benelux, Scandinavia, Israel and South Africa.

Oxford, UK (August 4th, 2015)

Burgundy Information Services is pleased to announce that Paul Curtis is joining their team to help promote e-resources and publishing services to libraries across Europe.

Paul brings with him a wealth of knowledge and experience that will help Burgundy to further develop relationships and revenues on behalf of their publishing partners. Paul has worked within the scholarly publishing world for more than fourteen years, the last six of which were spent at Maney Publishing, selling their list of peer-reviewed journals to academic and corporate libraries around the world. His territory experience is vast, having worked extensively throughout Europe as well as further afield including Africa, Middle East and Asia.

Paul Calow, International Sales & Marketing Director commented: "We are delighted to welcome Paul into our highly motivated sales team. His industry knowledge, sales experience and wide-reaching network of library contacts will help us to further expand the reach of our clients' high impact, high value journals and ebooks into new libraries and information centres throughout Benelux, Scandinavia, Israel, Turkey and South Africa."

Contact Details

Paul Curtis
Senior Account Manager

Email: paul.curtis@burgundyservices.com

Telephone: +44 (0) 7900 904263

Skype: paulcurtley

About Burgundy Information Services Ltd

Burgundy represents a wide range of Publishers and e-Content Aggregators from around the world. They specialise in negotiating the delivery of scholarly information (journals, ebooks, proceedings, databases) to Libraries and Information Centres throughout Europe. Burgundy is an independently owned company based in Oxfordshire, England.