

PRESS RELEASE

Burgundy to exclusively represent the Royal Society of Chemistry in Central Asia

Oxford, UK, 24th October 2009

Specialising in the promotion of innovative publishers, Burgundy Information Services has signed an exclusive agreement to represent the Royal Society of Chemistry (RSC) in selected countries within Central Asia. Burgundy will be promoting the RSC's eJournals and digital archive in Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Turkmenistan, Mongolia and Nepal and will be utilizing a number of different sales channels to bring this valuable content to a range of institutions throughout the region.

The RSC publishes a series of high impact journals that are dedicated to the rapid publishing of innovative chemistry. Their journals are recognised as the fastest in the field, with many papers being fully peer-reviewed, edited and published within a day of receipt.

"Burgundy has been successfully promoting high quality content into difficult to reach territories for a number of years now and we look forward to working with the Royal Society of Chemistry to bring their valuable research to new user groups throughout the region" commented Paul Calow, International Sales Director at Burgundy.
